School Boards Favor School Division for Pass

A combined meeting of the entire Coleman School Board and the Crownsnest Consolidated School Board was held in Blairmore on Sunday, November 27th, under the Chairmanship of Mr. John Salus, Chairman of the Coleman School Board.

Mr. L.G. Hall, Director of School Administration and Mr. A.B. Wetter, Assistant Director of School Administration, of the Department of Education explained in detail the benefits that could be derived from the merging of these two School Districts into one School Division. Their explanation of the benefits that could be obtained from the construction of one large High School for the area would be such things as an enlarged curriculum that would make greater provision for non academic students and the possibility of efficiently using teacher specialists. These added school services would be made possible by an enlarged Industrial Arts and a full Home Economics Department, also by the addition of a Commercial wing.

The Matriculation pattern is becoming increasingly difficult, and the Crownsnest Pass, in keeping with other areas, is faced with an ever increasing "dropout" problem. Only the operation of a diversified High School program can help these non academic students.

It was the unanimous opinion of all the trustees present that such a High School would be greatly beneficial to the Pass, therefore they were in favor of the immediate formation of a School Division.

To better inform the public about this proposal, a public meeting will be held in the Horace Allen High School Auditorium on Thursday, December 8th, at 8:00 p.m. at which Mr. L.G. Hall and Mr. A.B. Wetter will explain the reasons for such a School Division.

It is the sincere wish of the Coleman School Board that all interested persons, and this should mean everyone in the area, will attend this very important meeting.

Wells Nominated To Carry Tory Banner

(Courtesy Lethbridge Herald)

The 35-year-old chartered accountant who carried the Progressive Conservative banner in the October 6th Pincher Creek-Crows Nest by-election, Alex Wells of Blairmore, was re-nominated recently for the next provincial election.

Mr. Wells ran third in the by-election, behind Social Credit candidate Joseph Hanrahan and the winning candidate, New Democrat Garth Turcott.

Nearly 40 persons attended the nominating meeting in the community hall.

Guest speaker was provincial Conservative leader Peter Lougheed, who declared that the Social Credit claim that the next election will be on a "Social Credit-Socialism" basis is an "intentional red herring because the government knows we are building a strong alternative."

Alberta, he said, is a free enterprise province and the electorate would not vote the Socialist party into power.

The most serious problem facing Alberta, Mr. Lougheed said, is one of education.

"There should be no watering-down of the education system," he declared. "We will not accept second best."

The Tory leader also called for decentralization of industries, as an important phase of the economy of smaller centres.

Mr. Lougheed called on the party nucleus to obtain more workers for the next provincial election. Mr. Wells would only need 900 more votes than he obtained in the by-election, to defeat the newly-elected NDP MLA.

Candidate Wells told the meeting that Mr. Lougheed is building in Alberta "a new party concept in an old-line party."

Mr. Wells, in urging that the Pincher Creek-Crows Nest riding not retain its Socialist MLA, said: "It took us in the Pass more than 20 years to overcome the stigma of being a socialist area... let's not have it again."

The people in the riding showed on October 6th their "disfavor" of the Social Credit government, he said, and stated that opposition must be "responsible opposition" rather than being there for the purpose of "muddling."

Out of the October 6th by-election campaign, Mr. Wells said, emerged a strong Conservative organization.

K. of C.'s Form Committee

November meeting of St. Joseph the Worker Council, Knights of Columbus in the Crows Nest Pass, was held in Bellevue Catholic hall on Sunday evening.

Grand Knight Morden McNeill of Hillcrest, announced the following chairmen of the various committees for 1966-67:

Six-point General Chairman: Rev. P. A. Tessier; Catholic Activities, Italo Sartorio; Council Activities, Charles Amato.

Insurance, John Albizzati; Public Relations, John A. Lloyd—all of Blairmore. Youth Chairman, Louis Sikora; Fraternal Activities, Louis Vasek, both of Coleman, and Columbian Squires, Ray Walendev, Hillcrest.

The Council has decided to buy or build playground equipment for the kindergarten at Blairmore, under the supervision of the Sisters of St. Martha. In lieu of a Christmas Tree Party this year Council is arranging with Santa Claus to pay a personal visit with presents to all children, 10 years of age and younger of the members.

An inter-council bonspiel is being planned for Pincher Creek on Sunday, December 11th, with rinks from Fort Macleod, Pincher Creek and the Pass.

This is a mixed 'spiel, 16 or more rinks, with at least one lady on each rink. Deadline for entries is December 1st, and the general chairman is Dr. Gerry Beste, Fort Macleod.

Attendance prize was won by Father Tessier, Blairmore, and the Park Lane draw winner was Mrs. Vera Hansen, Hillcrest.

A short memorial service for deceased members of the order, particularly the late Brother Otto Comin of Coleman, was conducted by Rev. P. A. Tessier, assisted by Deputy Grand Knight Anthony Fumagalli, and Eric Price and J. A. Lloyd, and was participated in by all members present.

December meeting will be held December 18th in Coleman Catholic hall, and wives of the members will be guests at that time.

If you should skid, leave the motor engaged and turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid—the way the rear of the car swings. Pump your brakes gently but rapidly to stop. To jam on the brakes will often lock the wheels, throwing the car into a dangerous skid.

Cancer Group Reports Indicate Successful Canvass

A committee of canvassers for the Canadian Cancer Society met at the Turtle Mountain Hotel on Sunday afternoon, November 20th, and heard reports indicating that the recent canvass held by the local groups distinguished this area as being the first in Alberta to go over the quota.

General chairman of the Crows Nest Pass Cancer Society, L. S. "Sonny" Richards of Blairmore, reported the quota of $2,000, set for this area, had been surpassed by $250.

Mr. Richards gave a break-down of the canvass that indicated Coleman, under the chairmanship of Jim Montalbetti, had collected 117 per cent of its quota; Blairmore, under Jim Smith and Mr. Richards, 104 per cent; Frank, under Mrs. Kay Kerr had collected 98 per cent; Hillcrest, under Victor Belik, collected 106 per cent; Bellevue, under Bob Blacklock, collected 48 per cent; Lundbreck, under Walter Oakley, collected 104 per cent; Beaver Mines district, under Mrs. M. Oskowski, collected 118 per cent; Cowley, under Clarence Weekes, collected 88 per cent; and Sentinel, under Mrs. Florence Kerr, collected 102 per cent.

A general meeting is being planned for the near future when officers for the coming year will be elected. Date of the meeting will be announced and representatives of all organizations are urged to attend.

Girl Forest Guards
To Hold Pie Social

The Coleman Girl Forest Guards will hold a Pie Social in the United Church hall on Saturday, December 10th, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Pie, coffee or tea will be served for 35c. They will also have Christmas cookies and home-made candy for sale.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend and you are urged to turn out and support these girls.

Local Lads Receive Awards

Warren R. Andersen and Renzo Tullisi of Coleman were among the 185 students receiving prizes, scholarships and awards on November 16th at the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology 13th annual Awards Day.

Guest speaker at the event was Dr. T. C. Byrne, Deputy Minister of Education and the chairman of the occasion was D. C. Fleming, Institute principal.

Council Meets Contractors

Don Bacon of East Kootenay Power Company, was present at the town of Coleman Utility meeting November 15th, and arrangements were completed for East Kootenay Power to provide electrical energy for the Coleman Water Supply Company's new pump-house.

Reports indicated that Berger Construction Company of Calgary, successful bidders on the Water Company's new proposed pump-house, had arrived in Coleman and construction on the $42,900 unit has started.

Mine Supt. Injured In Collision

Jack Diskin, 35, superintendent of Coleman Collieries, is in Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital with a fractured arm and ribs suffered when the truck he was driving collided with a CPR locomotive Wednesday afternoon, November 16.

The accident occurred when Mr. Diskin was travelling south into the mine yard. The train was in the process of switching cars at the time of the mishap.

A tuberculin test determines whether or not a person has been infected by tuberculosis germs, but it does not show if infection has advanced to disease. Chest x-ray and other tests are needed to determine the presence of disease.

Business Tax Collection Poor

Coleman council expressed great displeasure at the laxity in which local businesses are paying the town's business tax.

It was disclosed that in 1963 one party did not pay their tax; in 1964, three businesses failed to pay the business tax; in 1965, the figure rose to six and in 1966, a grand total of 22 have not paid their obligation to the town.

After studying the matter council decided to pursue collection of the delinquent taxes and the secretary was instructed to adopt whatever action is necessary to recover the arrears.

Councillor Mel Cornett gave a resume' of the recent convention held in Red Deer, where the Hon. Mr. Hooke, Minister of Municipal Affairs, presented a number of suggestions that are to be brought up in the House in Edmonton.

Coleman will send letters of objection to the Union of Alberta Municipalities and to Garth Turcott, MLA, regarding at least two of Mr. Hooke's suggestions.

Coleman will protest against having a complete election of council every three years as they feel that this could be disastrous to towns undertaking large projects such as sewerage installations, etc. They will express their belief that in order to maintain continuity in the town's successful operation, several councillors should be retained each election.

Council also disapproved of the suggestion that all residents of a town and not only proprietary electors, be allowed to vote on capital expenditures in a town or city.

Mayor John Holyk reported to council that he had completed a sale of the used town grader to two Pincher Creek farmers.

Chairman of Parks and Cemeteries, John Binda, and town foreman, Hector Pivdov, will visit the local cemeteries to assess damage done to graves, stones and walls while new graves were being dug by a contractor. The matter will then be turned over to a local insurance agent for action.

The town secretary, Dick Jensen, was instructed to apply for approval of several winter works projects including construction of a new road in the new sub-division and the installation of 24 new light standards.

Mayor Holyk reported that the Crestview Lodge at Pincher Creek would be filled to capacity this month and that it was now time to push for a Senior Citizens' home for the Crows Nest Pass.

Council approved the usual gifts for town employees and local occupancies in the Crestview Lodge.

O.O.R.P. Collect For C.N.I.B.

The Coleman Order of the Royal Purple Lodge No. 96 at its meeting this week, heard a report indicating that the recent campaign conducted by the group for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind fund was very successful.

It was reported that a grand total of $425.34 was collected, and is to be forwarded to CNIB headquarters. The OORP has extended a sincere "thank you" to the citizens of Coleman for their generous support of this project.

The annual Christmas tree party will be held in the Elks hall starting at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, December 20th.

Plans were completed for a joint Memorial Service to be conducted by the OORP and the Elks Lodge in the Elks hall at 2 p.m. Sunday, December 4th. The public is invited to attend this annual service for departed members.

Curling Executive Is Named

Doreen Collings was elected president of the Coleman Ladies' Curling Club at a meeting held on November 21st.

To assist President Collings in her duties the following officers were also elected:

Vice-president, Alma Roughead. Secretary, Maureen McDonald. Treasurer, Isabelle Spevak.

Thanks Expressed

The Coleman Athletic Association conducted a tag day on Friday, November 18th and the committee in charge report the event to have been very successful.

Proceeds from the tag day are to be used to promote junior sports activities in Coleman.

The Association has extended a sincere "thank you" to all who supported the event.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

The Machine And Me

I've been a farmer for only a few months, but I've learned quickly that a farmer must be a mechanic, or learn to cuss like a demented sailor.

The other day I sold a short story, and before the cheque had even arrived (I'd spent the money, not, as usual, on a steak dinner at a fancy restaurant, but for a machine that looked striking and efficient in the literature.

It is called a Brush and Grass Cutter, and I thought it would free me from the scythe. It has a small gasoline motor at one end, a tube with a crankshaft leading to a whirling blade at the other end. What I forgot was that somewhere between those instruments there has to be a man, and I am he.

I spent the first morning putting the darn thing together. Why manufacturers don't hire some good technical writers I can't understand. I'd have managed the job better without any instructions, rather than the garbled ones that came with the machine. Finally, I got the darn thing together, gassed and oiled it, and hopefully pulled the starting cord - It erupted in a great burst of action, with blue smoke spurting everywhere. It took half an hour to get the mixture adjusted to the point where it was safe to breathe while carrying the instrument. I then hoisted the machine into position, marched to the grass and brush, and was prepared to begin. The motor coughed and quit.

The instructions clearly said not to try to adjust the motor when it is operating, so I twiddled with the little screws and started it again. By sheer accident, or through fear (I had cursed it out plenty!) it worked steadily for half an hour and I was mowing down great gobs of landscape. But I was weary and wanted to rest and smoke. The instructions said to press the clip against the spark plug in order to stop the machine. This I tried to do - and the clip fell off. I cut the gas right down, lowered the machine to the ground, but still it refused to stop! This doggone motor that had conked out on me so many times was now determined never to stop again. At long last, in desperation, I turned the shut-off valve, and let it run until all the gas in the carburetor was burned.

I left it sitting there in the field and came home disgusted. The good old scythe, leaning against the shed door, looked quiet and tractable and delightful but I'll swear it was sneering at me.

I'm afraid I was born a hundred years too late. I would have done well in the good old days before some durn fool invented the infernal combustion machine.

THE OLD ONES ARE STILL THE BEST What a Friend We Have In Jesus

What a Friend we have in Jesus,
All our sins and griefs to bear.
What a privilege to carry
Everything to God in prayer.

O what peace we often forfeit,
O what needless pain we bear,
All because we do not carry
Everything to God in prayer.

Have we trials and temptations?
Is there trouble anywhere?
We should never be discouraged,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Can we find a friend so faithful
Who will all our sorrows share?
Jesus knows our every weakness,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Are we weak and heavy-laden,
Cumbered with a load of care?
Precious Saviour, still our refuge,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Do thy friends despise, forsake thee?
Take it to the Lord in prayer.
In His arms He'll take and shield thee,
Thou wilt find a solace there.

This week I have a little something for those of you who have a fireplace, or would like a gift idea for someone who does. These are homemade Yule logs and cones, which burn with beautiful colored flames in an open fire. It may be a little late for Christmas this year, for the Yule logs, but if you hurry, you might have them ready and they would certainly be delightful in the long snowy evenings of January and February.

Yule Logs For Fireplace:

To make sparkling "joy logs", have all old newspapers and any other absorbent paper, also colored sections, rolled to form logs about 16 inches long. Do not place too many papers in a roll as they swell. Tie with heavy twine, not too tightly and soak in the following solution:

Four pounds of bluestone (blue vitriol or sulphate of copper), 3 pounds of rock salt, dissolve thoroughly in one gallon of water, using the same proportions for as much as needed. For extra color effects add one ounce of borax (green flame) or barium nitrate (purple flame).

Soak the "logs" for three or four weeks in this solution, turning end for end frequently. As the solution will corrode metal, the soaking should be done in a plastic vessel or in a stone crock. It should be handled with gloves, as it will stain the hands or clothing. It is an internal poison and should be kept away from children and animals.

During the early autumn or summer is the best time to make "joy logs", as they have a better chance of drying; unless thoroughly dry, they are of no use.

One log in an open fireplace will burn almost the entire evening, throwing out rainbow colors. Wrapped in red paper, tied at each end, they make delightful gifts.

Cones may be soaked a few days to a week in this solution too, dried and put in bags for holiday presents.

Frosted Cones For Fireplace:

Dry chemical mixture:
2 lbs. coarse salt
1 lb. borax

1 lb. bluestone (copper sulphate) coarse grade
Pulverize the bluestone if pieces are large. Dip cones in this shellac so that they are tacky, then roll in the chemical mixture and set aside to dry. The cones give off blue, orange and green flames when soaked on a bed of coals in the fireplace. Small pieces of bark or driftwood can be used instead of cones.

The chemical mixture is corrosive — mix in crockery, plastic, heavy cardboard or a heavy bag. Use rubber gloves when handling. Also POISON — keep out of reach of children and animals.

You need 10 ozs. of shellac to coat enough cones to use up the amount of chemical given above. What you need is frosted small pine cones to fill a 10 lb. sugar bag.

Letters to the Editor

Southern Alberta Pioneers and Old Timers Association
36th Ave. 4th St. S.W.
Calgary, Alta.

Mr. T. Holstead,

The Coleman Journal,

Coleman, Alberta.

Dear Mr. Holstead:

The Centennial project of the Southern Alberta Pioneers and Old Timers Association is the erection of a fieldstone Memorial Archway leading into the grounds of their Memorial Building, 36th avenue and 4th street S.W., Calgary. This Archway will bear bronze plaques perpetuating thereon the names of the original Pioneers of Southern Alberta who were resident prior to 3.12.1890 in that portion of the province which lies south of Township 40.

Erection of this Memorial will be financed by contributions from members of the Association, descendants of Pioneers and friends. Any surplus funds which may be realized will be devoted towards beautification of the grounds.

Information desired is full names, place and date of arrival, and dates and places of birth and death of the original Pioneer (head of family), together with similar particulars, regarding his or her marriage, spouse and descendant family as applicable, at least through the first generation.

Much help is needed if we are to avoid missing any of those pioneers to whom we owe so much, and we would be grateful for any information which can be communicated to us.

Descendants of such Pioneers are undoubtedly among your readers, and all possible publicity which can be given to our need for information will be deeply appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

L. S. GRAYSON,

Chairman,

Centennial Committee

Familiarity Breeds Danger On Road

The more familiar a motorist becomes with run-of-the-mill driving situations, the less likely he is to recognize the dangers in those situations, according to the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

This is evident in the fact that, out of Canada's 1,500,000 licensed drivers, more than 1,600,000 are annually involved in crashes or brushings with the law.

Collisions occur under circumstances which the average driver regularly experiences. They include collisions with the vehicle behind, the oncoming vehicle, at intersections, while passing or being passed or simply driving along with no other traffic near. The last type is frequently referred to as the mystery crash because seldom is there an evident reason for it.

Drivers who survive the one-car, run-off-the-road crash are not always able to explain what happened. Drivers who do not survive take the cause with them. During 1965, 1220 persons died in this type of crash and close to 70,000 were injured.

The Council recommends that every motorist use Safe Driving Week, December 1 to 7, to study commonplace situations in traffic, learn to recognize the dangers and how to avoid them.

To Broadcast Centennial Musical Announcements

Nineteen Alberta radio stations will soon co-operate in what is probably the first province-wide, simultaneous public service broadcast in provincial history. At 7:30 p.m. on November 29th every independent, English station in the province (CBC had network commitments, and the tape was available in English only) will broadcast three Centennial musical announcements which were produced for the Alberta Government Publicity Bureau by James Lovick Limited, Edmonton.

FAO Issues Blunt Warning

Famine Threat Growing

Most people know the term "population explosion." But few understand the awesome warning it holds for the world. A man who does understand is Dr. B. R. Sen of India, Director-General of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. In a recent New York address, he spelled it out: the world is producing people faster than food.

"The enormous increase, both actual and potential, in the world's population, has created a situation of immense gravity and danger for mankind. At present about one half of the world's people are underfed or badly fed, or both."

For the rich countries of North America and Europe food is no problem, Dr. Sen said. "But for the developing countries the threat of hunger is always present, and the spectre of famine just waits around the corner. It is not that these nations have failed to step up their output of food. They have achieved almost exactly the same rate of increase between the pre-war years and 1963 as the more advanced countries. But per capita production has fallen because of the population explosion."

The earth already houses above three billion people and this number will double within 30 years. If the peoples of Africa, Asia and Latin America are to receive an adequate diet, by the year 2000 their food production must be increased five-fold.

Despite its dimensions, Dr. Sen said the situation was far from hopeless.

Many scientists believe that rational exploitation of the earth's prodigious resources could usher in an era of plenty for all men. The oceans, for instance, cover 71.7 per cent of the globe but supply scarcely 1.5 per cent of man's food, which certainly could be increased. Chemists, using inorganic substances, can effect a synthesis of most elements essential to human nutrition. Proteins can be extracted from

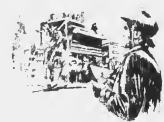

According to H. E. Martin, Director of the Publicity Bureau, his office has received many requests for tape recordings of the three compositions from people who wished to play them at home or for meetings. Rather than provide tapes for all those who desired them, it was decided to give all Albertans a chance to record the jingles for themselves.

Accordingly the radio stations were approached to assist in the project and the saturation broadcast was the result.

The Centennial jingles, two 60-second musical announcements and one 90-second song, have proved to be extremely popular with residents of the province, since they first went on the air in August. In addition to requests for tapes, many Albertans have asked for copies of the music and lyrics. Mr. Martin said. Most of these were teachers anxious to have their classes learn the Centennial songs.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you — it's the truth!" chuckles Stew Cameron as he rolls a cigarette. Stew should know, he has made thousands laugh with his hilarious sketches of Alberta outdoor life. Stew's humor is always close to reality. Although he's tuckin' broncs and brahms bulls are cartoons, every cowboy and muskie is accurately drawn. His animals leap from the page. This enterprising Alberta cartoonist brings an insight to his work through his own knowledge of his subject. He knows the independent cowpunchers and their mounts and has managed pack trains himself. That's why his cartoons like "Pack Horses on a Rockies" and "What's at the Stampede" have a wide appeal to both tourists and natives. TERRY BURNAT,
Jenner

Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year.

Remember those good old carefree teenage days? But being a teenager means anything but a carefree life for 16-year old Terry Burnat. Just before Christmas her mother was killed, and her father injured in a car accident. Since that time she has taken over the management and operation of her farm home, including the supervision and training of her two brothers, 13-year old Teddy and 11-year old Timothy. She attends school in Medicine Hat, but each weekend comes home to do the washing, ironing, cleaning and cooking. Despite this heavy load of responsibility,

Terry has done well in school and was an Efficiency Winner in the Jenner 4-H Beef Calf Club.

We congratulate Terry and wish to thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to J. L. Nesbitt, Editor of the Brooks Bulletin and to Terry's nominator, Norma Jean Gray of Brooks.

Have you ever wondered...

...what precautions are taken to prevent breaks in Alberta's oil and gas pipelines?

Pipeline safety is a team effort between industry and the Pipe Line Division of the Alberta Department of Mines and Minerals. From the specifications stage to actual operations, continuous safety checks are carried out by the Division's engineers and inspectors. All specifications are checked prior to construction and the finished line must pass a test under greater pressure than that which will be used in operation. A continuous program of inspection is maintained on lines where there is a danger of corrosion and all pipelines are checked for maintenance of safety factors. With 17,338 miles of pipelines in the Province, breaks do sometimes occur and these are investigated immediately. The line must be restored to conditions which meet the original safety standards before it is put back into operation. If the repair fails to satisfy the Division Inspector it must be re-done and, if it is still not satisfactory, he may order a re-testing of the entire line.

...how Alberta's fur farmers are kept informed?

The men and women who raise Alberta's multi-million dollar fur crop each year must be kept up to date on all technical improvements and changes if they are to keep their output up and their overhead down. The Fur Farms Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture keeps them well informed, through the distribution of written information and technical material, as well as by means of field days, educational meetings and live shows staged by the Branch. Regular ranch inspections and visitations by Fur Farms Branch personnel also help maintain the industry which last year was valued at over three million dollars.

...who acts as the "steadying influence" for municipal tax assessments?

Alberta municipalities have three choices come assessment time. They can do the job themselves, hire an outside agency, or call on the Alberta Department of Municipal Affairs for assistance. The latter move is by far the most popular because not only does the Department supply trained specialists to do the job, it also absorbs 25 per cent of the cost. All but three or four of Alberta's small towns and villages (and many of the rural municipalities) take advantage of this service and those municipal assessments which are done by other means, with the exception of those in cities, are subject to supervision and inspection by the Assessment Branch. The Branch also assists the smaller cities with their assessment programs and is providing an increasing service in rural assessment.

...how you could see into Alberta's history?

Albertans will soon be able to take a trip into their Province's past by visiting the new Provincial Museum and Archives of Alberta to be opened in 1967. Displays of birds, mammals, plants, fossils and rocks will tell the story of the Province's natural history while artifacts from days gone by will portray the history of the pioneers and the Indians. Specimens are being chosen and displays are being constructed by experts on the Museum and Archives staff of the Alberta Provincial Secretary's Department. Footnotes to Alberta's history will be provided through historical documents and photographs being collected in the Archives and these will be available for reference and display.

...what the "social resources" of Alberta are?

Social resources are activities which are available to all members of a community to allow them to enrich their physical, mental, spiritual and social well-being. It is these resources which must be developed to the full in order to give every Alberta family the chance to live more happily, more creatively, and to prevent family breakdown wherever possible. Working with the municipalities, the Social Planning Branch of the Alberta Department of Public Welfare is establishing a program which is designed to provide supportive help to family life. Under this program, each municipality appoints a director who is responsible for program development such as volunteer services, leadership for family life education and stimulation for leisure time activities. The Department of Public Welfare will accept 80 per cent of the cost of these programs to encourage the opportunity for individual and family well-being throughout the Province.

...why you need a permit to hunt antelope in Alberta?

The main reason is to keep the Province's antelope population at a reasonable level; not too many for the carrying capacity of the area in which they live; not so few that hunting them will have to be discontinued. From studies of the herds and their habitat, the Fish and Wildlife Division of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests can forecast with reasonable accuracy how many antelope can be killed without seriously affecting the survival of the herd. This number controls the number of permits which are issued. To give every hunter an equal chance at his antelope, successful applicants are selected by a draw and each receives a permit which tells him where he can hunt, when he can hunt, and what the limit is. In this way, all Alberta hunters can be sure that there will still be antelope around for their sport next year.

Centennial Report

BY JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Report No. 16—

Time flies fast during summer holidays and it won't be long before it's back to school in September. The coming school year takes us right into Canada's Centennial celebrations and there will be some special news this fall for the five and a half million children and teen-agers attending the schools throughout the country.

School posters and classroom posters will announce the news in September that all public and high school students from six to 18 years of age will be invited to participate in the Centennial Athletic awards program. There will be three "compulsory" events: one minute speed sit-up, a 300 yard run, and a standing broad jump. Participants in the awards program will choose one additional event out of three "optionals": swimming, skating or cross country.

The Centennial Commission with the Centennial planners of the provinces, decided on this broad program for schools so that all children in the country would have the opportunity to take an active part in the Centennial. (A separate program along the same lines has been approved for those attending schools for the retarded children).

The standards for every age, six to 18, by which participants will be judged in the compulsory events are those developed by the Canadian Association for Health Physical Education and Recreation — (CAHPER).

In the optional events the swimming standards are those of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association. For skating, the Canadian Amateur Speed Skating Association standards will be used. No Canadian standards for a cross country run have ever been developed before so the Centennial Commission has tested groups of school children of various ages in the Ottawa area and has set up special ones for the 1967 program.

The department of education in each province will be sending out teachers' manuals to schools for the beginning of fall term. Teachers also will receive class record sheets and each student will receive a wallet size card so that he can keep his score during the Centennial athletic events which may be run off between September and December.

Gold, silver and bronze Centennial crests for achievement will go to outstanding athletes in the awards program. If a student does not achieve standards in athletic events to merit a gold, silver or bronze award he will receive a red crest for participation and at least a passing mark in all events.

The Commission and provinces, in planning the Centennial Athletic Awards Program, selected events that would require no special athletic equipment and that would be suitable for maximum participation. Add administration will be handled through the provincial departments of education. Teachers will conduct the compulsory events but a teacher may delegate anyone to conduct optional events.

The planning of the program has been done with sports directors of the provinces and territories, and various Canadian sports organizations and with the approval of all provinces and territories, plus the Department of Indian Affairs, the Department of National Defence (responsible for Canadian schools overseas), and the Department of Northern Affairs — (which administers schools in the territories and Arctic islands).

So there is something special to look forward to, on and after September 6. I have been saying all along that everybody can take part in the Centennial celebrations and the athletic awards program is just one of the many opportunities for school children to be involved in Canada's birthday party.
